DX NEWS

Dayton Hamvention

As the world famous Dayton Hamvention approaches, this year DX-World has a dedicated snapper there, namely James KB2FMH. He will send various pictures of well known DX / DXpedition operators as the event gets underway.

Here's one such photo featuring Adrian KO8SCA, Johannes PA5X, and James KB2FMH himself on the way to Hamvention.

Thanks James!

Jarvis Island as a New DXCC Entity...

The DXAC investigated and rejected the notion that Jarvis should be separated from Palmyra. This was published in the January 2024 DXAC minutes, along with the explanation about how Palmyra and Jarvis ended up being joined. Again, there is no path for Jarvis to be a separate entity except for a rule change to accommodate it, just like what was done with Swains and Kosovo. That practice should continue to be rejected by the DXAC, PSC, and ARRL Board. However, keep in mind that there will be another ARRL board meeting in July, one month before the N5J Jarvis Island DXpedition. Link to DXAC minutes here – [it is worth a read].

CY9C St Paul Island -update

The 2024 St Paul Island CY9C DXpedition team is pleased to announce that the ARRL has preapproved the CY9C DXpedition for DXCC credit.

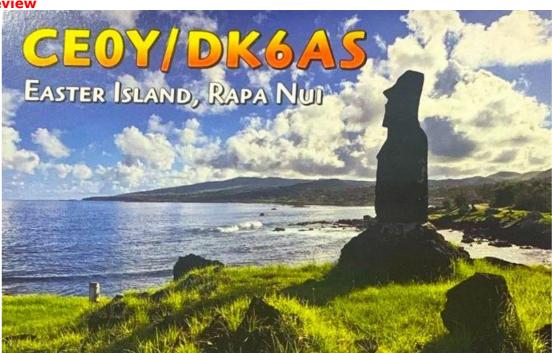

The CY9C team is very busy with executing the plans for the DXpedition. A 24-foot vehicle has been rented and reserved for early August to transport a lot of the gear to Dingwall, Nove Scotia. Dingwall will be the base for all pre_DXpedition activities. Greg Lawrence and Hamilton Carter are assisting the team in Dingwall.

The team would like to thank NCDXF, INDEXA, EUDXF, GDXF, Clipperton DXC, Southeastern DXC and many other fine foundations and clubs who have recently pledged support for the CY9C DXpedition! The team is very grateful for all of the clubs and individuals who have joined our effort. These are all listed on our Sponsor page on our DXpedition website. Additional support is encouraged and can be made through our website.

VKO and VK9 rules change by Gary ZL2IFB

The original full policy is online at the ACMA website. I've extracted just the VK0 & VK9 section. In essence, as I understand it, VK0 is to be reserved only for Antarctica and there are new callsign rules for the VK islands. VK9 is only for 'Australian external territories' such as Norfolk, Willis, Christmas, Cocos Keeling, Heard and McDonald Islands. I understand, visitors to Macquarie Island will, in future, get VK7 not VK0 calls, and Lord Howe Island will get VK2 not VK9 callsigns.
